

ACCESSING HEALTH SERVICES

As a UBC student

Student Health Services offers a wide range of health assessments and treatments provided by doctors, nurse practitioners, and nurses. Appointments are available by phone, video, or in person.

HOW IT WORKS

- Make an appointment at a clinic to see a professional for medical attention or a prescription.
- If required, they may refer you to a specialist.
- Most physician and hospital services will be covered by the BC MSP. Ensure you are currently enrolled to avoid paying for services independently.
