Dear Hiring Manager,

I was excited to see the SAP iXp Intern position advertised on your company's website, and I am writing to express my strong interest in the role. As a Bachelor of Computer Science student in my third year, I have completed coursework and projects using a wide range of programming languages, including Java, HTML, CSS, and react.js. I am particularly passionate about software development and am constantly seeking out new opportunities to expand my skills.

A project that demonstrates my initiative is a closet tracking app that I developed using Java and Java Swing. This app allows users to track their clothing data and view cost per wear statistics for particular brands and clothing items. I also completed an internship at Faster Than Light Computing, where I used BASH to automate the installation of company services and implemented a NAC distance solution to reduce in-person support needs. These experiences have provided me with a strong foundation in collaboration, problem-solving, and critical thinking.

I am inspired by the demonstrated history of both innovation and inclusion at SAP. The exemplary policies at SAP combined with the company successes aligns with my values of wanting to use technology to improve the everyday lives of consumers. I am confident that my passion, skills and experience make me a strong candidate for this internship and I would be honored to contribute to SAP's mission.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to speak with you about my qualifications and learn more about this exciting opportunity.

Sincerely,

Emilyn Sim
