COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course covers basic accounting concepts used to measure and report on the performance of a business to external parties. The reporting of financial statement information leads to economic consequences to a business and its management team. This course will assist students in understanding the information contained in financial statements and how external users use this information to make resource-allocation decisions.

COURSE FORMAT

Class time will be used for a combination of lectures, discussion, and solving problems to accomplish the learning objectives below.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the financial statements prepared by a business and how external users make use of this information. Although the class requires you to learn some basic accounting bookkeeping, the emphasis of the class is on understanding how financial statements information can be used to make decisions.

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Describe the four financial statements and the information that each provides.
- Explain the process involved in compiling the financial statements.
- Describe the basics of accounting for receivables, payables, inventory, and long-lived assets.
- Discuss revenue recognition principles.
- Complete an analysis of the financial statements.
- Interpret and evaluate a statement of cash flows.
- Analyze and evaluate the financial status of a business.
- Explain how financial statement information is used in making decisions.

ASSESSMENTS

On-line Quizzes	10%
In-class Quiz	25%
Final exam	50%
Class participation	5%
Total	100%

Details of Assessments

Assignments - There are five assignments in the course. The assignments will allow students to apply concepts they have learned in class, and will encourage students to remain engaged in the material. The due dates are indicated on page 5.

On-line Quizzes – There will be five on-line timed quizzes in the course. Students have two attempts at each quiz and the higher mark of the two will be recorded. The due dates are indicated on page 5.

In-class Quiz – The in-class quiz will be on Monday, Sept. 23, 2019.

Final exam - The final exam will include all materials covered in the course. Date of the final exam will be determined by Administration and will be announced later in the term.

Class participation – Class participation allows your cohort to learn from your experiences. This component recognizes regular, constructive, and professional contributions to class discussions.

LEARNING MATERIALS

Required: Financial & Managerial Accounting, 3rd Edition (custom), by Weygandt, Kimmel and Kieso (ISBN 9781119552161). Integrated with Canvas.

Articles from journals and business reports will be used to enhance understanding of concepts. These will be posted on Canvas or handed out in class.

COURSE-SPECIFIC POLICIES AND RESOURCES

Missed or late assignments, and regrading of assessments

Late or missed submissions of assignments and quizzes will not be accepted and will receive a grade of zero.

Academic Concessions

If extenuating circumstances arise, please contact the RHL Graduate School program office as early as reasonably possible, and submit an Academic Concession Request & Declaration Form <https://webforms.sauder.ubc.ca/academic-concession-rhlee>. If an academic concession is granted during the course, the student will be provided options by RHL, or by the instructor in consultation with RHL, per UBC's policy on Academic Concession.

POLICIES APPLICABLE TO COURSES IN THE ROBERT H. LEE GRADUATE SCHOOL

Attendance

Excepting extenuating circumstances, students are expected to attend 100% of their scheduled class hours. Absent students limit their own academic potential, and that of their classmates, and cause unnecessary disruption to the learning environment. Students missing more than 20% of the total scheduled class hours for a course (including classes held during the add/drop period) without having received an academic concession will be withdrawn from that course. Withdrawals, depending on timing, could result in a “W” or an “F” standing on the transcript.

Punctuality

Students are expected to arrive for classes and activities on time and fully prepared to engage. Late arrivals may be refused entry at the discretion of the instructor or activity lead. Students arriving later than halfway through a scheduled class will be treated as absent for that class.

Electronic Devices

Devices such as laptops, tablets, and cell phones are not permitted to be used in class unless directed by the instructor for in-class activities. Students who do not follow the School’s policy in this regard may be required to leave the room for the remainder of the class, so that they do not distract others. Research shows that students’ use of laptops in class has negative implications for the learning environment, including reducing their own grades and the grades of those sitting around them.

Citation Style

Please use the American Psychological Association (APA) reference style to cite your sources.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND RESOURCES

UBC provides resources to support student learning and to maintain healthy lifestyles but recognizes that sometimes crises arise and so there are additional resources to access including those for survivors of sexual violence. UBC values respect for the person and ideas of all members of the academic community. Harassment and discrimination are not tolerated nor is suppression of academic freedom. UBC provides appropriate accommodation for students with disabilities and for religious observances. UBC values academic honesty and students are expected to acknowledge the ideas generated by others and to uphold the highest academic standards in all of their actions. Details of the policies and how to access support are available on the UBC Senate website at <https://senate.ubc.ca/policies-resources-support-student-success>.

Academic Integrity

The academic enterprise is founded on honesty, civility, and integrity. As members of this enterprise, all students are expected to know, understand, and follow the codes of conduct regarding academic integrity. At the most basic level, this means submitting only original work done by you and acknowledging all sources of information or ideas and attributing them to others as required. This also means you should not cheat, copy, or mislead others about what is your work. Violations of academic integrity (i.e., misconduct) lead to the breakdown of the academic enterprise, and therefore serious consequences arise and harsh sanctions are imposed. For example, incidences of plagiarism or cheating may result in a mark of zero on the assignment or exam and more serious consequences may apply if the matter is referred to the President's Advisory Committee on Student Discipline. Careful records are kept in order to monitor and prevent recurrences.
