

Are you a BC resident living with mental illness and pursuing post-secondary education?

Apply online for a bursary or scholarship by June 30, 2015

Visit www.cmha.bc.ca/bursary to learn more and apply

The Canadian Mental Health Association, BC Division administers several bursaries and scholarships to encourage and enable people with mental illness to pursue post-secondary education:

- Lorne Fraser Educational Bursary ($700) for individuals in BC currently enrolled or thinking of applying to post-secondary education or job training
- Lorne Fraser Scholarship for Mental Health Promotion ($1,000 or $2,000) for BC university or college students pursuing a career related to mental health
- LGM Continuous Learning Bursary ($800) for individuals in BC who will enroll at the fully accredited Athabasca University via distance learning

Canadian Mental Health Association
British Columbia
Mental health for all

