BCTOX publishes original research, mini reviews, short communications, letters, case reports, and case series as long as they are limited to 1000 words and the content is British Columbia related.

Publication Ethics

This bulletin follows International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE)'s Recommendations. Authors (i) must declare any conflict of interest in a given manuscript, and we utilize COPE workflow to transparently handle it, (ii) follow ICMJE definition of author and contribution, and (iii) accept the ethical policy including regulation and malpractice statement.

Peer review process

All manuscripts will be peer reviewed by experts and on the basis of their feedback; papers will be accepted, subject to revision or rejected.

References

References should be given in the Vancouver style and numbered consecutively in the order which they are first mentioned in the text. Citation in the text should be in line with text in parenthesis with Arabic numbering style.
