

5892 Ross Street
Vancouver, BC V5W3L4

August 4, 2021

Hans Fryman
Medical Director
Neurocode Labs, Inc.
Vancouver, BC V6T, 1Z3

Dear Dr. Fryman:

I am currently applying for the position of a qPCR technician at Neurocode Labs Inc., as advertised on Glassdoor.ca. I will graduate from the University of British Columbia this November with a Bachelor's degree of Biochemistry. I was looking for various jobs where I could learn and apply my skills in research, when I saw the advertisement for Neurocode Labs at UBC.

I have previously worked at two different industrial laboratories, working as both a QC technician, as well as a research assistant at a biotechnology firm. In addition to these, I have also taken lab coursework offered by UBC for biochemistry and organic lab programs. These experiences have given me the skills and tools needed to work efficiently and accurately within a biochemical laboratory environment.

Working to research various methods that may improve people's lives has always been my personal goal when I enrolled in UBC's biochemistry program. I believe my passion, hard work, and experience will make me a valuable asset to your team. If you believe my experience matches your team's requirements, you can contact me any time at 604-837-3082, or email me at brendan.mk.chan@gmail.com

Sincerely,

Brendan Chan

Encl. Résumé