

BOOKSALE !!!

Raising funds for
The Judy Brown Memorial Scholarship in Canadian Literature

9:30 am - 4:00 pm

Wed. Jan 28, Thurs. Jan 29

Tues. Feb 3, Wed. Feb 4

BUCHANAN TOWER 104 (LOBBY)

All the books in this sale come from the extensive personal library of Judy Brown. Judy's collection is rich in many areas, especially Canadian Studies and the humanities. Come to the sale! Well-loved books here! And books as new! Find books for yourself or maybe that perfect gift book. Fiction, literature, critical studies, language, biography, history, women's studies, politics, philosophy, travel, religion, children's books and critical works on children's literature, ...and more.

Because there are so many books, we anticipate that we may not have room to get all of them out on sale in only two days—so we have planned a second sale in the first week of February, just in case. Hundreds and hundreds and hundreds of books! Come early!

Lots of bargains for all kinds of booklovers!

If you can't attend the booksale and would like to take this opportunity to make a gift to the Judy Brown Memorial Scholarship in Canadian Literature, here are various options for you to make a gift.

About Judy

Judy Brown was beloved by generations of students at UBC, and her inspired teaching won her multiple awards, including a 3M Fellowship, Canada's highest award for excellence in undergraduate teaching. By establishing this scholarship, we will honour Judy's many contributions to UBC, her educational leadership, and in particular her dedication to English undergraduates studying Canadian literature. The scholarship will be offered to a student completing third year, for the best essay on Canadian literature submitted for a course in the Department of English.

With thanks to all, from Judy's sisters, Jackie, Barb and Caroline, and from her colleagues in the English Department.
