

It's November!

EDST STUDENT NEWSLETTER | NOVEMBER 2017

November is just around the corner! In the midst of the many mid-term papers, projects, and presentations you are probably busy working on, we hope you have had a chance to enjoy the autumn sunshine this past week, not to mention the many festivals in town including Diwali and Halloween.

It has also been a busy month for our GAA-organised activities, and we would like to thank DR. ASHLEY PULLMAN, DR. KAPIL REGMI, MARY KOSTANDY, RACHEL GOOSSEN, and SHAYNA HORNSTEIN for hosting various workshops and discussions. We also want to convey our thanks to the rest of you who either attended our workshops or supported our speakers in one way or another!

TURNING THE CLOCKS

For those of you who are new to Vancouver (in honesty, this is something that confuses most of us too), daylight saving is ending at 2:00am on November 5, Sunday. Remember to turn back you clocks one hour early, although mobile phones, laptops and other electronic devices usually adjust automatically. This is especially essential for those of you who are travelling that day, or have a time-sensitive schedule to meet! Daylight saving will return at 2:00am on March 11, 2018 (Sunday).

RESEARCH DAY 2018

Our department's annual Research Day will take place in April 2018, but we are already gearing up for the event! Like past years, we will be sending out a call for volunteers on the organising committee, so if you are curious about what conference organising is about, this would be a good chance to gain some experience! Look out for our email announcement sometime in November!

WRITING GROUP

Our writing group has been running for around 3 weeks now, and we look forward to welcoming more of you to join us! We are planning to integrate some writing-related workshops to this group next time, so do look out for our announcements!

MONTHLY EVENT OVERVIEW

November promises to be another month of workshops and learning! Dr. Vanessa Andreotti will kick off with a workshop on writing for publications, which is immensely useful for any graduate student thinking about publishing their work in a journal, a book, or elsewhere. This is followed by a research sharing session by Claudia Diaz-diaz and Paulina Semeneć on posthumanism and its relation to childhood. And if you are looking to develop some new skills, look no further because you will have a chance to learn about creating your own blog with Mary Kostandy, and using LinkedIn from Dr. Isabeau Iqbal!

Professional Development Series

Writing for Publications

Hosted by Dr. Vanessa Andreotti
11:00am - 12:00nn • PCOH2012

Writing Group

Open to all EDST students
10:00am - 2:00pm • PCOH2012

Writing Group

Open to all EDST students
10:00am - 2:00pm • PCOH2012

Writing Group

Open to all EDST students
10:00am - 2:00pm • PCOH2012

Writing Group

Open to all EDST students
10:00am - 2:00pm • PCOH2012

Professional Development Series

LinkedIn Workshop

Hosted by Dr. Isabeau Iqbal
12:00nn - 1:00pm • PCOH2012

Research Sharing Series

Posthuman Childhoods

Hosted by Claudia Díaz-Díaz and Paulina Semeneć (EDST)
2:00pm - 3:00pm • PCOH2012

Professional Development Series

Creating Your Professional Blog or Website

Hosted by Mary Kostandy (EDST)
11:00am - 12:00nn • PCOH2012

GET IN TOUCH

<http://blogs.ubc.ca/edstgaa>

Email (general enquiries): edst.gaa@ubc.ca

Follow us on Twitter: @EDSTGradForum