

UBC DEPARTMENT OF FRENCH, HISPANIC AND ITALIAN STUDIES
2018, SUMMER SESSION, TERM 2 (July-August 2018, Monday & Wednesday)

FREN 102: SYLLABUS

CONTENT & OBJECTIVES

FREN 101-102 is a beginners' French course, of a "blended" and "enriched" approach. The objective of the course is the acquisition of basic comprehension, communication, and writing skills. It aims to provide students with a solid grounding in French grammar and the development of an awareness of the language's structures, and to act as a useful introduction to French and Francophone culture. The course involves six hours a week of classroom work plus online practice exercises, homework, and preparation.

ELIGIBILITY

FREN 102 is intended for students who have completed FREN 101 (or an equivalent college course), or who have completed high-school French 10 or French 11 more than five years ago (or, in both cases, an equivalent secondary-school course). It is not available to students who have completed French 12 or any equivalent course. Generally speaking, students may not earn academic credit for any course below the level for which they have qualified by previous study. Further information on placement is at: <http://blogs.ubc.ca/fren102>

FREN 102 is part of a sequence of courses that should be taken one course at a time and in order: it is followed by 111 and 112 (the latter satisfies the UBC Faculty of Arts language requirement); then 122, 123, and so on. See further: <http://fhis.ubc.ca/undergraduate-french-program/advising-french/>

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK & COURSE MATERIALS (for both FREN 101 and 102)

Manley, Smith, McMinn, Prévost. Horizons (6th edition). Cengage/Nelson: 2015

- EITHER ISBN 9780176699406
= custom softbound textbook
+ iLrn access code / book key (on a card/sheet of paper in the "custom pack" package); at the UBC Bookstore
- OR ISBN 9781285457444
= just the iLrn access code: no printed textbook (cheaper), purely online version

Both versions include an access code / book key, giving access to: <http://hlc.quia.com/books> and from there to:

- Horizons ebook: can also be highlighted, annotated, printed out, etc.
- Horizons electronic student activities manual: online exercises
- Further materials online: more exercises, practice, self-tests, audio-enhanced vocabulary flashcards, downloadable grammar & pronunciation tutorials & podcasts, games, puzzles, audio & video, etc.
- CAVEAT EMPTOR: IF PURCHASING PRE-OWNED COURSE MATERIALS, PLEASE ENSURE THAT YOUR ACCESS CODE DOES NOT EXPIRE BEFORE YOUR FINAL EXAM!

Course materials can also be bought used from students who took this course previously; for more information, please read <http://blogs.ubc.ca/fren102/2013/12/11/course-materials/>. You MAY share online access codes for working on online exercises—working on them in pairs of peers is strongly encouraged (see further below)—but you MUST have your own copy of the textbook (or its ebook version). Please bring it with you to class.

Course information and documents (such as this syllabus), and other materials, are at <http://blogs.ubc.ca/fren102>. The most up-to-date official version will be the one at that site. Individual instructors may also choose to make use of UBC Canvas for their section; they will inform you accordingly.

MODES OF ASSESSMENT & DISTRIBUTION OF MARKS

- Homework compositions (three) 5%
- Online practice exercises 5%
- Francophone UBC & Vancouver fieldwork project or equivalent (check with your instructor) 5%
- Quizzes & other in-class activities (five) 5%
- Oral & aural work 10%
- Tests in class (four: one on each of ch. 5-8; the best three tests count) 30%
- Final examination 40%

WORK & EXPECTATIONS

As is usual with university-level courses, students should expect to be spending at least two hours outside class (regular preparation, homework, and practice) for every hour spent in class. For a six-hour class, that is at least twelve hours' work; or, a little over two hours every day during the week, and the weekend off. Language learning requires regular practice: like music, dance, martial arts, and sports. It is better to do some French every day than to try to cram all your homework into one session on Sunday afternoon (also, this wrecks your weekend). FREN 102 has online exercises to provide you with this practice.

Homework compositions:

- Should be YOUR OWN work, UNASSISTED: you MAY NOT use tutors, Francophone friends, etc. to help. It is important to your learning to make your own mistakes, and to learn from them.
- You MAY use the FHIS Learning Centre; for some assignments, your instructor may ask you to do so
- You may use dictionaries and other resources; assignments may explicitly ask you to do so
- Topics will be communicated to you at least a week in advance of the due date; forms of writing will vary, and you will always have a choice of form and topic (e.gg. journal, description, review, sketch, story, comment, poem, calligramme, epigram, pastiche, parody, synopsis, collage, photomontage, meme, ...). Short: usually under 50 words.
- There will be three homework compositions
- Homework compositions are worth 5% of your final grade

Online exercises:

- are on iLrn: <http://hlc.quia.com/books>
institution = UBC
course = FREN 102: summer 2018
course code = XRPBEP887
- Please read the detailed directions on how to access iLrn, guidance, etc. at <http://blogs.ubc.ca/fren102>
- Assigned exercises can be done several times
- The deadline for their completion is the day of the final exam
- It is recommended that you work on practice exercises in pairs of peers (but you may work alone or in small study groups of 3-5, if you wish to). You may also see the FHIS Learning Centre for help.
- It is recommended that you do exercises regularly, after you have covered the work concerned in class—ideally every day—to reinforce what you have learned in class while it is still fresh in your mind
- You may find it useful to redo exercises as revision before test and the final exam
- There are also extra revision materials on iLrn; these are optional and are not assigned or marked
- Worth 5% of your final grade

Francophone UBC & Vancouver fieldwork project:

- May be individual or collaborative (pairs or small groups)
- Further instructions will be provided in week 1 of class
- It is worth 5% of your final grade

Quizzes and other assessed in-class activities:

- There will be five quizzes in class
- These are NOT tests: they are short (5-10 minute) in-class activities, “quiz” in the French sense of a game involving questions (like a TV quiz show)
- On the vocabulary of the previous week’s work
- Form and format will vary: individual/pair/team; vocabulary and spelling contests, games, collaborative in-class writing workshops, skits/sketches, fieldwork, etc.
- Worth 5% of your final grade

Oral and aural work:

- Listening comprehension and pronunciation and speaking practice
- Form and format will vary: individual/pair/team; games, dictations, skits/sketches, fieldwork, etc.
- Worth 10% of your final grade.

Tests:

- There will be four short (10-15-minute) closed-book tests in class
- A first test is on chapter 5, test 2 on chapter 6, test 3 on chapter 7, and test 4 on chapter 8
- The best three tests count
- These tests are worth 30% of your final grade (10% each)

Final examination:

- The final examination is two and a half hours long and is scheduled during the final examination period
- It is cumulative, on everything in FREN 102 (plus the foundations from 101: ex. for comprehension and composition)
- It is worth 40% of your final grade

POLICIES

- Attendance is required.
- In order to pass the course, a student must pass the final examination.
- Although students are strongly encouraged to speak French in class, speaking competence will not be graded.
- Such details as quizzes, the content of tests, composition topics, and exercises assigned may vary somewhat from section to section at the discretion of individual instructors. They may not, however, vary from student to student within a section.
- Students may not do extra work for extra credit; nor may the percentage of marks allotted to any portion of the course be changed. No extra credit.
- It is the responsibility of students to make sure that all the required assignments have been done and to keep all marked assignments and be able to present them upon request.
- No late work will be accepted.*
- No make-up quizzes, in-class exercises, tests, or exams.*

* For exceptions to the two previous policies, in exceptional circumstances, and with supporting evidence for your absence: see blogs.ubc.ca/fren102 > “THE RULES syllabus appendix”

- aims and objectives
- expectations
- responsibilities
- grading criteria
- plagiarism
- late work, extensions, and making up for missed work
- missing and rescheduling tests and examinations
- and quick links to UBC rules, policies, and procedures.

These rights, rules, and responsibilities are in addition to, not instead of, all policies and guidelines as supplied by the University, Faculty of Arts, and Department of FHIS. The most up-to-date version will be online (at the URL above). They apply generally across all sections of FREN 102: there may be some variation from instructor to instructor. N.B.: you are expected to be cognisant with University rules and regulations: this is part of the contractual agreement every student enters into with the University when they register.

THE FINAL EXAMINATION I : ATTENDANCE

Exceptions to the rule requiring that all students write their final examinations at the appointed time:

1. Students with three examinations scheduled within a twenty-four hour period are said to face an examination hardship and are entitled to have the middle exam rescheduled. If French 102 falls in the middle of such a combination, consult the coordinator (contact information below).
2. Students who are prevented by illness, bereavement, or other personal or family affliction from writing an examination on the appointed day may apply to their Faculty's Academic Advising Office for deferral of standing. Documentary evidence will usually be needed to support the request.
3. An examination whose date falls on a religious festival will be rescheduled by the coordinator for adherents of the faith concerned. But please note: you may not invoke the policy to justify an early departure from campus for the holidays unless you adhere to a religion that has no place of worship in the Lower Mainland. Your exam will simply be moved a few days in either direction.

THE FINAL EXAMINATION II : DIRE WARNINGS

1. Under no circumstances will an examination be rescheduled to accommodate a student's travel plans, not even to prevent the waste of money unwisely spent before the exam schedule was known.
2. No provision will be made for students who miss a scheduled examination because they misread the timetable.

WITHDRAWAL DATES

- Without a W or other changes in registration (credit, audit, Credit/D/F): until Friday 6 July 2018, through the Student Service Centre online
- With a W: until Friday 20 July 2018 (ditto)
- Changes in registration after 20 July 2018 are a formal academic concession, for which you will have to apply to and receive the approval of the Academic Advising Office of your Faculty.
