Dear Konrad:

Summer is approaching and I have been on the job hunt for a position related to my education. I found a posting I am interested in and will be applying shortly. The job is with Dr. Smukler, a professor from UBC, as a Delta Drainage Project Technician. This position, as you know, aligns with my career goals. I am hoping you will be able to write a reference letter as part of my application, which I would like to submit by April 15th. Some qualities you could highlight are:

- Endurance in outdoor work
- Safety
- Backcountry navigation
- Ability to work in a team setting

The responsibilities include collecting soil samples and running lab analyses. It sounds like most of the work will be outdoors, across various areas of Delta BC. The skills I gained under your supervision with the Ministry of Forests Lands Natural Resource Operations will be a real asset.

This job could be a great stepping stone for me as I graduate from UBC and move into a career. I greatly appreciate your time and hope to see you soon.

Sincerely,

Jacob Bauer
