

I
D
R
N

Are you interested in International Development and Research?
Do you want to connect and collaborate with like-minded individuals at UBC?

Then come join IDRN!

The International Development Research Network (IDRN) is an initiative of the Liu institute of Global Issues at UBC.

IDRN aims to expand learning opportunities and foster vibrant, critical conversations related to international development research and practice at UBC.
We are looking for graduate students interested in joining the IDRN to help organize events, contribute to IDRN's blog and help decide on IDRN's future directions so that we continue the international development discussion on and around campus.

Come to our next meeting:
November 12th @ 11am in the Liu Institute Research Unit.

To RSVP for this meeting or inquire about future meetings, please e-mail
idrncbc@gmail.com

You can check us out online, too!
blogs.ubc.ca/idrncbc | @idrncbc | facebook.com/IDRN.UBC