

The HIBAR Research Buddies are hosting an engaging event for UBC graduate students!

Join your fellow Buddies on March 6 as we officially launch our community activities, showcasing impactful Highly Integrative Basic And Responsive (HIBAR) projects and highlighting the vital role that graduate students can take in these projects.

This Launch Event is:

- An in-person event hosted on both UBC campuses — Vancouver and Okanagan.
- Open to all current UBC graduate students, and food and beverages will be provided.
- Free, but advanced registration is required.

4-6pm

Wednesday, March 6, 2024

The Graduate Student Collegium at UBC Okanagan

OR Thea's Lounge at UBC Vancouver

At the event, you will:

- Connect with other like-minded students from across research disciplines
- Take an active role in shaping the emerging HIBAR-B community to catalyze change
- Better understand the vital role students can play in building trusted relationships
- Learn how UBC researchers are tackling societal problems through HIBAR projects
