

If you really love food science Join the IFT International Division!

Besides the fun we will have at the IFT annual meeting and expo in Chicago this summer (July 16-19, 2016), joining the International Division can help you find:

- Jobs and internships abroad – we are a networking goldmine!
- Scholarship opportunities – available both for attending the conference in Chicago this summer and for the IFT poster competition at the expo!
- A broader scientific and international network, where you can stay informed about key developments concerning world food problems

Contact one of your International Division student representatives for more info on how to get involved, or ask us on our Facebook group (fb.com/groups/IFT.ID)
