

The cheesiest imparfait, you've ever tasted

À la française

CUISINE

3 min

TIME TO PREPARE

3-5 min

TIME TO COOK

One conjugated verb

SERVING

NOTE

The verb être is the only exception to our recipe and is conjugated as follows:

|               |                   |
|---------------|-------------------|
| j'étais       | nous étions       |
| tu étais      | vous étiez        |
| il/elle était | ils/elles étaient |

INGREDIENTS

- An infinitif verb (dévoré)
- One first person singular subject, je
- Imparfait endings (ais, ais, ait, ions, iez, aient)
- Cheese knife
- Cheese board
- Saucisson
- Grapes or Olives
- 2 sprigs of Rosemary
- Fresh baguette

PROCEDURE

- Pick your favourite infinitif verb
- We've chosen to work with dévoré
- Score your verb gently, then add your rosemary sprigs and bake in the oven at 400°
- While dévoré is baking, take your je from the fridge and set it aside
- Let dévoré melt into the présent de l'indicatif conjugated with nous
- You should be left with a nice and creamy nous dévorons
- Next, separate your verb in half, you should be left with the stem dévor and the ending ons
- With your cheese knife, cut out your ons, it is no longer needed
- You're now ready to use your je and your imparfait ending, ais
- Place je first on your cheese board, then add the completed verb, dévorais
- Decorate your cheese board with your saucisson, fresh baguette, and olives or grapes as desired
- Voilà, you've baked the imparfait!