

Writing Resources at UBC

Prepared by
Theresa Rogers, Associate Dean, Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies

The UBC Writing Centre

The UBC Writing Centre offers writing support for all UBC students...

The only requirements for meeting with a tutor are that you are a UBC student and that your question or concern has something to do with writing....

We offer three main services, all free to UBC students: one-on-one tutoring, self-learning resources available online, and workshops that are developed and led by tutors in response to student requests or recurring questions they encounter in tutoring sessions.

<http://learningcommons.ubc.ca/tutoring-studying/improve-your-writing/>

Drop-In

Chapman Learning Commons

3-7pm, M-Th; 3-5pm F, Jan 12-Apr 10, 2015

By Appointment

Ponderosa C, 2021 West Mall

10am-3pm, M-F, Jan 12-Apr 10, 2015

- Book online through WCOOnline (<https://ubcca.mywconline.com/>)

UBC Continuing Studies

- ❖ Courses on writing, including: University writing, Writing for Graduate Students*, Professional writing, Scientific writing, Writing proposals

*Writing at the Master's or PhD level presents distinct challenges. This course helps you with the specific requirements of graduate-level articles, reports and theses. Topics include problem areas in style and grammar, the development and organization of ideas, writing abstracts and literature reviews, and incorporating sources and quotations. As well as carefully designed assignments, the course provides opportunities for questions, discussion and exercises.

Note: If English is not your first language, you may want to consider taking Writing 098 or Writing 099 first.

UBC Scholarly Integrity Guidelines

- ❖ <http://learningcommons.ubc.ca/resource-guides/avoiding-plagiarism/>

Academic integrity is honest and responsible scholarship. As a university student, you are expected to submit original work and give credit to other peoples' ideas. Maintaining your academic integrity involves:

- Creating and expressing your own ideas in course work
- Acknowledging all sources of information
- Completing assignments independently or acknowledging collaboration
- Accurately reporting results when conducting your own research or with respect to labs
- Honesty during examinations

Learn more with our Interactive Online Tutorial!

Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies

Graduate Pathways to Success (GPS)

Many workshops for graduate students, including Graduate School Success: Skills in academic writing and applying for funding, for example, help you to complete your program successfully and graduate in a timely fashion.

<https://www.grad.ubc.ca/current-students/graduate-pathways-success>

Courses in May/June include:

- ❖ Academic Writing that Flows and Resonates
- ❖ Writing with Integrity
- ❖ Grammar and Style
- ❖ Best Practices for Peer Writing Support