

2017 SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

SEMESTER I REPORT

PRESENTATION

- The Comité Campesino del Altiplano (CCDA) thanks our friends for the contribution made to our scholarship recipients.
- For us, it is very satisfying to support young farmers so that they can fulfill their dreams of completing their studies.
- Many of our youth have the ability to pursue their studies but do not have the opportunity due to the lack of employment, lack of attention from the government and at times, because they have to fulfill the role of mother or father due to family breakdown, as their parents emigrate to the coast.
- We present this report that showcases their contribution toward the organization and its impact on our communities.

We are constantly communicating

- Our youth maintain a constant communication with the CCDA team, where they receive information about the current national context and the importance of obtaining a degree and supporting their community in the future.

Families are involved with their progress

We met with their families to inform them about the commitments all the students must fulfill in order to receive support as for example to contribute to community work with CCDA.
