• Scholarly Teaching Dossier (see guidelines).

Completed the scholarly teaching dossier as per the required format. Added extensive Appendices as I intend to use this for my tenure and promotion case. Discussed the first draft of the Dossier with Tony Clarke for feedback and upon his suggestion included the letters from the head.

• Teaching and Learning Journal

Read the articles from FCP master library and the ones from Journal of Engineering Education. Reflections are documented in the e-portfolio. I intend to share these with my students and hence the structure of the journal reflections.

- Formative Peer Review of Teaching Practices: Classroom Research

Invited three colleagues (two from the Department of which one is a Killam prize winner and one from the FCP cohort) to review my class. Provided them with the class notes (lesson plans) and feedback guidelines. I offered two lectures exclusively for the FCP purposes, as I am not originally scheduled to teach due to parental leave. The formative feedbacks are posted on the portfolio along with the reflections.

Prior to attending these classes I obtained feedback framework and relevant class materials well in advance I have reviewed two lectures/videos of lectures of FCP colleagues to offer feedback. I met with the FCP colleagues to discuss the feedback after the classroom visit/video review.

In addition attended two lectures by Killam prizewinners. I added my reflections on the formative feedback process.
