Dear Miss Filipe,

Re: Master of Biotechnology Application

Please consider my application for the Master of Biotechnology program at the University of Toronto, as offered on the university website. I will be graduating from the University of British Columbia in May of 2016 with a degree in Biology. I believe that this program would complement my area of expertise perfectly.

As you can see from my enclosed resume, I have spent many years volunteering in a variety of medical facilities while attending school at a highly regarded Canadian university. These experiences have provided me with a strong foundation in science. However, there are still many opportunities for me to expand my commerce knowledge.

I am hope to find work in the business side of biotechnology or pharmaceutical companies. I am passionate about bridging the gap between science and business in hopes of improving public health by providing more effective and efficient health care services.

With my experience, I bring a fresh perspective and would greatly appreciate the education gained through this program. Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at (604) 728 8315 after 6:00p.m. daily or email me at gohtim@gmail.com.

Sincerely,
