

Taras Shyp
675 W 10th Ave
Vancouver, BC V5Z 1L1
(604 2882 345)
tshyp@alumni.ubc.ca

OBJECTIVES

Intensive training and research work in molecular pathology and cancer molecular biology. Willing to subspecialize in paediatric cancers

EDUCATION

- University of British Columbia

Doctor of Philosophy in Interdisciplinary Oncology. Appointed May 2019

- Danylo Halytsky Lviv National Medical University

August 2015 – August 2016

Anatomical Pathologist

Danylo Halytsky Lviv National Medical University

September 2009 – June 2015

Doctor of Medicine (Diploma with Honor)

SKILLS

Research Skills

- Transcriptomics technique (qRT-PCR, PCR, Western blotting)
- Gene-engineering technique (e.g., CRISPR-Cas9)
- Experience in work in the Viral Vector Laboratory

Pathology

- Surgical pathology of thyroid gland (mostly with neoplasm specimens)
- Intraoperative frozen section experience (over 150 per year)

Languages

- English, Ukrainian, Russian

WORK EXPERIENCE

Lviv Regional Pathology Bureau, Pathologist (full-time)

September 2016–April 2019

Provided histological examination of biopsies and postoperative specimens from main hospitals and clinics of Lviv region

Pathohistological Laboratory of the Diagnostic Centre “MeDiS”, Pathologist (part-time)

June 2019–April 2019

Performed histological and cytological analyses of biopsies and postoperative specimens, including more than 150 intraoperative frozen sections

Charity Organisation “Galician Hospital Fund” Executive Director (part-time)

April 2017–April 2019

Presented organization among various companies of Lviv and Lviv region; controlled appropriate service for members of “Galician Hospital Fund” in hospitals and clinics

Department of Pathology and Forensic Medicine, Danylo Halytsky Lviv National Medical University,) Resident in Pathology (full-time)

September 2015–September 2016

Organized weekly pathomorphological conferences in the Department

Division of Nephrology, Lviv Regional Clinical Hospital, Clinical Nurse (part-time)

January 2014–June 2015

Assisted division doctors monitoring and administering medication and intravenous infusions

VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE

Lviv Public Integrity Council at Lviv Regional State Administration

Secretary at Health Commission April 2017–February 2019

Organized meetings of the commission; presented the commission on state and regional meetings

REFERENCES

Available on request