

AGENCY, POWER, AND STRUCTURE:

Navigating the Social World

MAY 10-11, 2013

Department of Sociology, UBC

The Graduate Student Council of Sociology (GSCS) seeks proposal for papers for its sixth annual interdisciplinary graduate conference, at which graduate students can come together to share empirical research and theoretical insights on our changing social world. Papers, panels, posters or multi-media presentations are welcome. All topics and frameworks are encouraged, however we especially seek submissions that critically engage with themes of social change, social justice, collective action, new technology, and other issues that take into account recent local and international developments. Please feel free to submit an individual abstract or propose a panel along with other students.

Please submit abstracts of up to 250 words to: UBC.GSCS@gmail.com with the subject heading "GSCS 2013 Conference Abstract"

Deadline: April 1st, 2013
