Department of Sociology
University of British Columbia

The Graduate Student Council of Sociology (GSCS) seeks proposals for its seventh annual interdisciplinary graduate conference, at which students can come together to share empirical research and theoretical insights on our changing social world. Papers, panels, posters or multi-media presentations are welcome. All topics and frameworks are encouraged, however we especially seek submissions that critically engage with the conference theme linking social theory to its practical applications. Please feel free to submit an individual abstract or propose a panel along with other students.

Please submit abstracts of up to 250 words to: UBC.GSCS@gmail.com

Deadline: March 31st, 2014
